12 v.

13 AMERICAN INVSCO CORPORATION,
14 et al.,

15 Defendants.

Case No. 2:08-CV-01463-KJD-RJJ

ORDER

16
17 Before the Court is Defendant ConAm Management Corporation's Motion for Certification
18 of Order Granting ConAm Management's Motion to Dismiss (#878). No opposition has been filed
19 and ConAm has filed a reply and notice of no opposition (##891, 892).

20 On September 13, 2011, this Court granted ConAm's Motion to Dismiss (#843). ConAm
21 seeks certification that the Order granting the Motion to Dismiss operates as a final judgment as to 22 ConAm. Fed. R. Civ. P. 54(b) provides that a court may enter "final judgment as to one or more, but 23 fewer than all, claims or parties only if the court expressly determines that there is no just reason for 24 delay." This decision is left within the sound discretion of the court. See Curtiss-Wright Corp. v.
25 General Electric Co., 46 U.S. 1, 3 (1980). In a multi-party case it is appropriate to enter final 26

1 judgment pursuant to Rule 54(b) when all claims against the party seeking certification are
2 completely disposed of. Noel v. Hall, 568 F.3d 743, 747 (9th Cir. 2009).

3 Plaintiffs have not opposed ConAm's motion. See Local Rule 7-2 (failure to file points and 4 authorities in opposition constitutes consent to granting of a motion). The motion appears to be
5 supported by good cause. Each of Plaintiffs' claims against ConAm have been dismissed and there
6 appears to be no just reason for delay.

7 Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that Defendant ConAm Management
8 Corporation's Motion for Certification of Order Granting ConAm Management's Motion to Dismiss
9 (#878) is GRANTED.

10 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Clerk is directed to enter final judgment in favor of 11 Defendant ConAm Management Corporation.

12 DATED this 17th day of April 2012.
